Dear [redacted]

STAT

I want to call your attention to the excellent job [redacted] has done for us in the first year of his two-year rotational assignment.

[redacted] has applied his substantive knowledge and managerial acumen to provide dynamic and effective leadership to the new FBIS Science and Technology Center. This has gone a long way toward making the Center a significant Intelligence Community resource for open source collection on S&T topics. In a field where the growing number of sources already exceed the resources available to exploit them, [redacted] has conscientiously worked his contacts with senior Directorate of Intelligence managers, yourself included, to give direction and focus to our collection effort.
We expected good things of [redacted] when he began his assignment with FBIS;
his accomplishments have exceeded those expectations by a great margin.
